U.S. Bombers Attack Cong Positions

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers attacked North Vietnamese positions at eight points along South Vietnam's border with Cambodia and Laos today amid reports of new enemy buildups.

The raids were the heaviest by the giant eight-jet bombers in two weeks, stretching from the southern Mekong delta to the demilitarized zone at the northern end of the country.

Eight waves of the Stratofortresses dropped 1,200 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese bunkers, base camps, weapons positions, staging areas and supply depots. Other B52s and smaller fighter-bombers pounded enemy supply routes from Laos and Cambodia.

The U.S. Command ordered the strikes after intelligence reports that North Vietnamese troops were moving back into border areas from which they withdrew when American and South Vietnamese forces struck at the enemy's Cambodian sanctuaries in May and June.

A task force of 2,500 South Vietnamese troops launched a new operation in southeastern Cambodia Sunday. Reports indicated North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers were massing in the large mountainous stockpiles southeast of the town of Kompong Trabek.

The sweep centered about 50 miles southeast of Phnom Penh, in a region five to ten miles from the Vietnamese border and just to the north of the Plain of Reeds, an enemy infiltration corridor into Saigon and the northern Mekong Delta.

A spokesman said 18,500 South Vietnamese troops now are operating in Cambodia, well below half the peak force of 47,000 in May.

The U.S. Command announced that American military strength in South Vietnam continues to decline as more troops leave the country in the fourth phase of President Nixon's withdrawal program. A communique said American troop strength dropped 1,800 last week, to 406,800. This is the lowest total since January 1967.

The U.S. Command said activity in Vietnam involving U.S. forces "continued to be light and scattered."

"No major ground engagements were reported, with the majority of U.S. casualties resulting from minor ground contacts, attacks by fire, and booby traps," a communique said. It reported nine Americans killed and five wounded.

In Cambodia, North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops attacked two factories built with Chinese Communist aid, but a spokesman said he had no reports of any major damage at either factory.

More fighting also was reported at Kiri Rom, 50 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, but there were no details.

The Cambodian command also reported that five of the nation's major highways had been cut by North Vietnamese and Viet Cong attacks or roadblocks.

After Investigation Experts Still Don't Know Cause of Crime

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A new U.N. report says that despite long investigation, the experts still do not know what causes crime.

"Despite the years of extensive and intensive study and research in many countries, the vital factors causing crime still escape unequivocal, positive identification," says a paper prepared by the U.N. Secretariat.

"For nearly every factor known to be associated with delinquency, from 'broken homes' and mental deficiency to overcrowding, delinquent subcultures, child neglect and poverty, it is still possible to show at least as many young people subjected to such conditions who do not commit crime as those who do."

The paper is titled "Social Defense Policies in Relation to Development Planning. It lists as 'the main aspects of development which have been thought' potentially crime-inducing: urbanization, industrialization, population growth, migration from farm to city and technological change.

Urbanization, it explains, means more "uncontrolled children on the streets of a town" and "implies more opportunities for crime with less risk of detection and a disturbing juxtaposition of affluence and poverty."

"The effect of industrialization on crime is said to be through other factors: ... offering work to women who then may not be able to give proper care to their children ... young people being attracted to town when there is still not sufficient work to go around ...

"Excessive population growth leads to crime by adding weight to the burden on the wage earner, overcrowding small houses, outgrowing school facilities ...

"However ... most of these influences have provoked endeavor and greatness as well as delinquency. It depends on the person."

Though crime in general grows as a country develops, the paper states, "the proportionate difference between male and female delinquency usually remains unchanged until the later phases of development and urban complexity, when female delinquency increases."

In those phases, too, come "the tremendous increase in drug trafficking and drug taking."

Mills Holds Celebration for Himself

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., held a birthday celebration for himself Sunday to observe his 32nd birthday in Congress.

About 1,000 persons attended a reception at Barton Coliseum and heard praises heaped upon Mills by colleagues in the U.S. House and other politicians in Arkansas.

Mills said he planned the affair because he was "homesick" and because he wanted his Arkansas friends to meet his friends in Congress.

Joining Mills in a receiving line were Reps. David Pryor, D-Ark., John Paul Hammer-Schmidt, R-Ark., Hale Boggs, D-La., John Bryens, R-Wis., and Tom Steed and Carl Albert, both D-Okla.

Each praised Mills, who is the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

"As big as he is, as powerful as he is, he has never forgotten Arkansas," said Boggs. "As long as there are people like Wilbur Mills in the Congress, the people will continue to govern."

Member of "Family" to Get Immunity

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A former member of Charles M. Manson's hippie-style "family" who is the state's star witness in the Sharon Tate murder trial will receive immunity from prosecution for her testimony this week, the prosecution says.

The witness, Linda Kasabian, 21, was indicted with Manson and three women followers whose trial resumes today.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Vincent Bugliosi said in his opening statement Friday Mrs. Kasabian would testify that Manson ordered some of his followers to shoot and stab the seven victims and write messages on the walls in their blood.

Before the trial recessed for the weekend prosecutors introduced the first three of more than 80 witnesses: Miss Tate's father, her estate caretaker and her maid.

Bugliosi said Manson ordered the killings of Miss Tate, a young actress, and six others on two nights last August to demonstrate how blacks might start a war to exterminate whites. Bugliosi said Manson believed the victorious blacks would turn power over to him and his desert-dwelling band as the only surviving whites.

State Should Try Self-Insurance

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas should investigate the possibility of developing a statewide self-insurance program of insuring school buildings in the state say State Education Department officials.

Rudolph A. Bryant, supervisor of school safety for the department, says insurance companies are making huge profits insuring school buildings in Arkansas, but that insurance premiums have continued to rise.

State Insurance Commissioner Ernest J. W. Fennell said last week that the insurance industry is growing reluctant to write coverage for educational institutions, including public schools in Arkansas. He said the chief cause of the reluctance was "disturbances and riots that have occurred across the country."

"It might be a good time to consider self-insurance for colleges and universities as well as public schools because the companies say they are losing money and they ought to be glad to get rid of the business," said state Education Commissioner A. W. Ford.

Ford said that if the state Insurance Department holds a hearing on an application for higher premiums on school property, he would appear to oppose the application and "I will have information that will prove interesting to the insurance commissioner."

Premiums would be paid into a state pool instead of two insurance companies under a self-insurance program and losses from a fire or other mishap would be paid from the pool. Investment of the premium payments would produce additional income.

Rickover Fights A-Sub Sale Plan

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover said the Soviet Union may be ahead of the United States in undersea power and warned a State Department plan to sell nuclear submarines to allies could worsen the balance.

Rickover asserted the poor security among European nations might give the Soviets access to U.S. propulsion technology, even though the nuclear subs in question are older models.

The comments of the admiral, known as father of the nuclear submarine and a long-time champion of naval strength, were made in March before the Joint Atomic Energy Committee and released Sunday.

Rickover also said the Soviet Union had asked the United States for one of its most advanced computers to use in connection with an experimental nuclear accelerator at Serpukhov.

He said Soviet ballistic missile submarines are now stationed off both American coasts, and that its total nuclear fleet may outnumber that of the United States.

"The Soviets are capable of starting tomorrow the biggest war there has ever been," Rickover said, "and frankly I am not confident of the outcome."

Rickover said the long-standing State Department proposal to sell used nuclear subs to allies has been opposed by other government agencies. "Only the State Department has kept the matter alive," he said.

"The State Department has very little appreciation for the value of our Polaris submarine propulsion technology and its strategic implications," Rickover said. "They have been trying to give it away for years."

He said a State Department official recently referred to nuclear propulsion technology as "Admiral Rickover's little plaything."

Rickover testified the Soviet Union asked U.S. scientists to arrange for a CDC6600 computer, described as the nation's best, to be installed in Russia in return for scientific information produced by the accelerator.

Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., chairman of the joint committee, said his panel blocked the proposal.

"Even if we furnished the Soviets a U.S. computer and could assure it was not used for defense purposes, having this powerful unit at Serpukhov would probably free other computers of Soviet design for defense work," Rickover said.

He indicated the Soviet Union apparently made the request in 1969 through Dr. Wolfgang Panofsky, director of the linear accelerator laboratory at Stanford University.

The Rickover testimony was released simultaneously with the opening of Senate debate on the $19.2 billion military procurement authorization bill, a measure containing funds for a number of advanced weapons systems, including submarines and ships.

The size of the bill is expected to be hotly contested by Senate advocates of reduced military spending. Rickover said these sessions ignore "the cold hard facts" of what he said is a deteriorating defense posture.

WR, Others Speak at EACA Rally

MARION, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Sunday that appointees to state boards and commissions made by former Gov. Orval E. Faubus had been a "millstone" around his neck.

Rockefeller and five other candidates for their parties' gubernatorial nomination spoke at a rally sponsored by the East Arkansas Cooperative Association, which is composed of Negro farmers.

The governor said again the reason he is running for a third term is because he was unable to accomplish all his objectives in four years.

The Rev. R. J. Hampton, who is also running for the Republican nomination, pledged to support Rockefeller if he got the GOP bid. Hampton asked if Rockefeller would make the same gesture if Hampton received the nomination.

Hampton said that Arkansas is suffering from an "untrue image."

Issac, Hyde May Win Championship

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
When Harry Hyde came South from the Northeast three years ago, tool box in hand, he vowed that one of his stock racing cars would win the NASCAR Grand National championship in fewer than four seasons.

Hyde came close last year, when his driver Bobby Isaac captured a dozen events, including his first 500-miler in the final race of the season in Texas.

Isaac, a short-track specialist from Catawba, N.C., is on the rampage again this year and his title chances grow better with each outing.

Isaac, with chief mechanic Hyde in the pits, easily won the nationally televised 250-mile Grand National at Nashville, Tenn., Saturday. The win, worth $3,310, put the 36-year-old driver in the lead for the 1970 championship, which pays a bonus of about $50,000 at season's end. It was Isaac's sixth victory.

Elsewhere during the weekend, Al Unser padded his U.S. auto club championship lead by winning a 150-mile race for Indianapolis Speedway cars on a road course at Indianapolis.

Old pro Tiny Lund, still going strong at 43, won his 16th of the season in NASCAR's Grand American series by beating 51-year-old Buck Baker across the finish line by an eyelash in a 300-lap event at Ona, W. Va. Baker had won two events earlier in the week on a Northern tour for the Southern-based sports sedans.

Denis Hulme won his second straight victory in the rich Can-Am series, leading new co-driver Pete Gethin to a 1-2 finish in a 200-miler at Edmonton, Alberta. Gethin had replaced Dan Gurney as the No. 2 driver for team McLaren earlier in the week.

McLaren cars now have won 17 in a row in the $1 million series, with Gurney getting the first two this year after taking over for the late Bruce McLaren, killed in a testing accident June 8.

Isaac, a mod-haired 150-pounder, now holds a 40-point edge over fellow Dodge driver James Hylton at the midway point in the NASCAR season. He had finished second to Plymouth's Richard Petty in a 100-mile event at Maryville, Tenn., Friday night and ran the 420-laps over the steeply banked Nashville track after only three hours sleep.

Bobby Allison, who also is in the race for the Grand National title, came in second at Nashville, but his Dodge trailed by two laps. Neil Castles was third in a Dodge and Cecil Gordon fourth in a Ford.

Unser, the Indianapolis 500 winner, won $10,430 as he paced Mark Donohue across the finish line at Indianapolis Raceway Park, a 2.5-mile road course. He drove the final 50 miles in the rain and spun off the course twice in the final 10 miles. But his lead was sizable enough to allow him to pit for fuel in the late stages without giving it up.

Mario Andretti, a three-time winner of the event and top qualifier this year, made only 15 laps. He was involved in a mixup with Scooter Patrick and Ronnie Bucknum that sidelined all three cars.

Gordon Johncock placed third, John Cannon fourth and Wally Dallenbach fifth. Unser's average speed was 92.799 m.p.h. despite the rain.

Hulme led the Klondike 200 at Edmonton from start to finish and moved into first place in the Can-Am standings ahead of Gurney. He picked up $12,000 plus accessory money and now has taken more than $35,000 from the four races that have been run.

Third place went to Lothar Motschenbacher in a year-old McLaren-Chevrolet. Bob Brown was fourth in a redesigned McLaren and Dave Causey was fifth in a Lola.

Lund, whose Camaro is the fastest on the Grand American circuit, was paid $1,500 for his West Virginia victory and now has pocketed $28,580 in prize money.

Famous Duo Earns Glory in Tourney

By D. BYRON YAKE
Associated Press Sports Writer
LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — It was Palmer country and they were Arnie's Army. But Jack Nicklaus earned his share of glory, too.

Golf's most famous duo, playing together instead of against each other, shot a final-round 67 Sunday in the National Four-Ball Championship for a three-stroke victory over three other teams. They finished with a 259 total.

"There's never been a member-guest tournament that has had this much attention," the blond Nicklaus said.

"I'll invite him back every year," said Palmer.

Their 25 under par gave them the $40,000 first prize, $20,000 each. It also gave Palmer his first victory of the year—on his home course.

Three strokes back, at 262, were Bruce Crampton and Oville Moody, the tournament's oldest pair. 58-year-old Sam Snead and 42-year-old Gardner Dickinson, and the 1968 champions, George Archer and Bobby Nichols, who shot a fine 63 on the final round.

Each player in the second spot won $8,166.67.

Crampton and Moody were tied with Palmer and Nicklaus until the 12th hole when Arnie put it close to the pin and Jack hit a nine iron about a foot and half away, then got the birdie.

Nicklaus got four of the team's six birdies and hit his second shot exceptionally well. Only his putting kept the final score from being even more decisive on this lush par 71 course in the hills of western Pennsylvania.

Nicklaus had the crowd roaring at the ninth when he hit his second shot five feet away. But he hung his putt and had to be satisfied with a par.

"Hold him in," one of Arnie's Army told Nicklaus on the 10th tee. But he didn't there.

His tee shot went into a fairway bunker and he topped his second shot, the ball going only about 50 yards. Palmer turned, his hands on his hips, and just laughed.

Palmer held Nicklaus in with a bar.

But Nicklaus got the birdie on 12, nearly getting an eagle as his second shot rolled over the edge of the cup on the par-4 hole.

The 15th hole was the last breath for Moody and Crampton, who parred every hole on the back nine. Moody went into the water on his drive, took a stroke, but hit his next shot seven feet away and canned it to save par 4.

Palmer and Nicklaus were both on in two and Nicklaus' second shot was just five feet away. He made it and the edge was now two strokes.

Hope All-Stars Beaten by Texarkana

Saturday night is the final game of the Babe Ruth District Tournament, the Hope All-Stars were beaten 17-8, by Texarkana. Hope had won the earlier game over Texarkana, forcing a second game for the championship. Mike Downs took the victory for Hope with some fine hitting by the All-Stars.

The second game saw Texarkana jump to a 4-0 lead and score every inning, but the second, to overpower Hope for the District Title.

The All-Stars were led by the hitting of Danny Boyette, Ricky Clark, Mike Downs and David Huddleston.

Bench Slams 3 Homers, Drives in 7 Runs

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Tony Perez learned that only one day on the bench can cost him his lead in homers and runs batted in if Johnny Bench is playing.

The Atlanta Braves, on the other hand, found out that Orlando Cepeda on the bench for just one at bat can cost them a ball game, even if Hank Aaron is hitting.

With Perez resting for the day with his 30 homers and 94 RBIs, Bench slammed three homers and a single and drove in seven runs in Cincinnati's 12-5 rout over St. Louis Sunday, giving Bench the National League lead in both categories with 33 and 95.

Cepeda, given an extra game, did still more for Atlanta. He ripped three homers and a single and drove in six runs in an 8-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs in the opener of their doubleheader.

He had two singles and a double in the nightcap, but was taken out for a pinch-runner in the eighth inning.

He watched on the sidelines in the ninth inning when Tommie Aaron, his replacement, came to bat with two on and two out, and Hank Aaron came in to pinch hit and hit into a force out. The Braves lost 7-6.

Bench and Cepeda led a day of home-run hitting and run scoring as Houston edged Pittsburgh 6-4 in 10 innings, San Diego mauled Philadelphia 16-2, Los Angeles stopped the New York Mets 5-3 and San Francisco topped Montreal 6-2.

In the American League, California outlasted Washington 11-10 in 11 innings, Baltimore buried Minnesota 11-1, Boston crushed Milwaukee 12-5, Oakland nipped the New York Yankees 4-3, the Chicago White Sox downed Detroit 4-0 and Cleveland swept Kansas City 6-5 and 3-0.

Bench, "having the best day I've had since I was nine years old in little league ball," opened his barrage in the first inning with a three-run shot. He connected for No. 2 in the second with one on, and then hit his third in the fifth with none on.

Given two more chances at record-tying four in one game, he singled in the sixth inning, then drove in his 95th run with a ground out in the eighth as he sent the Cardinals to their eighth straight loss and 17th in 19 games.

His outburst made things easy for rookie Wayne Simpson, 14-2, who didn't allow a hit until one out in the sixth inning. He needed help when St. Louis scored five times with the aid of several errors in the eighth.

Cepeda, with 11 hits in the four-game series against the Cubs, was even more successful as he boosted his homer total to 21 with solo shots in the second and fourth innings and his second grand-slam of the season in the fifth. He also singled home a run in the ninth.

Cepeda's two singles in the nightcap were unproductive but his double in the eighth, with Atlanta trailing 7-3, led to a run when Mike Lum tripled—and it also sent him to the bench for pinch-runner Tommie Aaron.

He watched from the sidelines while Gil Garido singled, Felix Millan doubled and Tony Gonzalez singled for two runs, and Roberto Rodriguez, who homered in the opener, relieved and got Hank Aaron to end the game.

The Cubs took the homer play in the nightcap as Billy Williams and Jim Hickman, who had one in the opener, each connected, while Hal King hit Atlanta's only homer.

Jimmy Wynn's two-run homer off Dave Giusti, 8-2, in the 10th inning put Houston over Pittsburgh and kept the Pirates' Eastern Division lead at 1½ games over the Mets.

The game was delayed 74 minutes with none out in the bottom of the 10th before Fred Gladding got the final out with runners on second and third.

Cesar Cedeño gave Houston an early 3-1 lead with a two-run homer, but the Pirates caught up in the seventh on Manny Sanguillen's sacrifice fly.

Al Ferrara had two homers and Nate Colbert and Steve Huntz had one each in San Diego's 16-hit attack that ended Philadelphia's four-game winning streak.

Wayne Garrett hit two homers for all of the Mets' runs. Tom Haller hit a solo shot for the Dodgers and Ted Sizemore hit a sacrifice fly and tripled and

Chiefs Ready for College All-Stars

By ROBERT MOORE
Associated Press Sports Writer
LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — Coach Hank Stram pronounced his Kansas City football team in good physical condition today for Friday night's clash with the College All-Stars at Chicago's Soldier Field and said he expects the Chiefs to win it.

Apparently not disturbed over the 10-day delay in veterans reporting to training camp, Stram said:

"The past is gone. As I've said so many times, football is a game of now. Now we've got to settle down and win Friday night. We wouldn't be playing this game if I didn't think we could win it. I think we have ample time to get ready."

The Chiefs' veterans were assembled here hurriedly Saturday after the National Football League Players Association finally agreed to let Kansas City work out and play the All-Stars. Veterans on the other 25 clubs are still sidelined because of the stalemate contract dispute between the players and club owners.

"Our squad reported in good physical condition," Stram said after four workouts were held over the weekend. "I thought our concentration was excellent and the execution was sharp."

Only one problem arose as the Chiefs practiced twice Saturday, twice Sunday and faced three one-hour sessions today. Stram found a shortage of veteran defensive tackles with the sudden retirement of Ed Lottamer and the failure of Ernie Ladd to show up.

To remedy the situation, Stram shifted rookie Bob Liggett, the Chiefs' 15th round draft choice from Nebraska, from offense to defense.

The Chiefs, in addition to their aerial game, worked extensively on end-around plays which picked up Super Bowl yardage last January when Kansas City thrashed the Minnesota Vikings 23-7 for the world championship.

Len Dawson, his left leg taped as a result of a 1969 injury that caused him to miss six games, was one of five veteran quarterbacks on the practice field.

Dawson, slated to start in Chicago, said the squad was relieved because the players' association reversed an earlier decision and decided to let the Chiefs play even though they will break camp after the game if there still is no agreement on the contract.

"We felt a moral obligation to play this game," Dawson said. "We feel very strongly about the players' association but we also know this game is for charity."

scored on Bill Russell's sacrifice fly. Russell also threw out the potential tying run at the plate in the eighth inning. Juan Marichal scattered nine hits for San Francisco and won only his fourth game of the season against nine losses. Willie Mays and Willie McCovey gave him plenty of batting help, each driving in two runs. Mays with two of his three singles and McCovey with a double and a triple

Minnesota Beaten 11-1 by Baltimore

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
It upsets Boog Powell to strike out with the bases loaded. So Minnesota pitchers Jim Perry and Dick Woodson, much to their chagrin, helped make the big Baltimore first baseman happy in a big way.

"I probably ought to come through more than I do, but the only thing I really hate to do with the bases loaded is strike out," Powell said Sunday after leading the Orioles' 11-1 trouncing of the Minnesota Twins.

The game was scoreless when Powell came to bat against Hall with the bases loaded in the fourth. He singled in two runs. Baltimore led 5-1 when Powell came up against Woodson in the eighth. He crashed his 26th homer to boost his RBI total to 86. Baltimore, first in the American League East, added two runs in the ninth in completing the rout of the West-leading Twins. Dave McNally upped his record to 13-7 with his first victory since June 30. Perry suffered his eighth loss in the bid for his 16th victory.

California edged Washington 11-10 in 11 innings with President Nixon as a spectator in Anaheim Stadium. Boston blasted Milwaukee 12-5. Cleveland swept Kansas City 6-5 and 3-0, Oakland nipped the New York Yankees 4-3 and the Chicago White Sox blanked Detroit 4-0.

In the National League, Cincinnati clobbered St. Louis 12-5. Houston edged Pittsburgh 6-4 in 10 innings. San Francisco took Montreal 6-2. Los Angeles topped the New York Mets 5-3. San Diego trounced Philadelphia 16-2 and Atlanta beat Chicago 8-3 before losing to Cubs 7-6.

Fifteen pitchers, eight by California, paraded to the mound in the Angels' victory over Washington, which came when Bill Cowan singled and scored on Jarvis Tatum's two-out double. Chico Ruiz had scored on a forced out to give California a 10-10 tie in the ninth after Washington had taken a 10-9 lead in the top of the inning on a two-run single by Frank Howard and a one-run single by Angelito Rodriguez.

Ken McMullen, Roger Repoz and Sandy Alomar homered for California. Howard hit his 28th homer in the sixth. It was followed by Mike Epstein's second of the game and 13th of the year. Boston rode over Milwaukee as Tony Conigliaro belted a pair of two-run homers. Carl Yastrzemski hit a two-run shot, his 27th, and George Thomas belted a solo shot. Tommy Harper and Jerry McNertney homered for the Brewers who had a three-game losing streak snapped.

Rookie Roy Foster's three-run homer sparked Cleveland's 6-5 first-game victory over Kansas City, despite a two-run homer and two-run single by the Royals' Bob Oliver. Chuck Hinton also homered for Cleveland.

In the Indians second-game victory, Steve Hargan pitched a five-hitter and Graig Nettles, Eddie Leon and Tony Horton homered.

The A's beat the Yankees for their sixth straight victory when Dick Green drove in the winning run with an infield hit in the sixth. Dave Duncan homered for Oakland while Jerry Kenney and Ron Hansen connected for the Yankees.

The White Sox victory over Detroit was the fourth straight and third complete game in that stretch for Tommy John, 9-12, who pitched a seven-hitter. Carlos May singled home a run in the sixth after a two base error by Dick McAuliffe and a punt for the only run John needed.

4 Added to Baseball's Hall of Fame

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Four new members move into baseball's Hall of Fame today as 10,000 fans jam this historic village to honor Lou Boudreau, Earle Combs, Jesse Haines and Ford Frick, and to watch a ball game.

After watching the formal induction ceremonies and the unveiling of the new plaques, boosting the total membership to 118, the fans stroll down Main Street to Doubleday Field to see the annual Hall of Fame exhibition game.

Because Montreal, one of last year's expansion clubs, is playing here for the first time, a planeload of 98 persons from Montreal will be on hand for the game between the Expos and the Chicago White Sox.

Although both teams are bumping around in the lower reaches of their respective divisions, the annual game attracts a sellout throng. The American League, which long ago lost its domination of the All-Star series, still holds a 15-11 edge in this series that means no more than possession of the Hall of Fame Cup.

The induction ceremonies are set for 10 a.m. EDT, in front of the Hall of Fame Library. Commissioner Bowie Kuhn runs the show with the help of Bob Hunter of the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner, president of the Baseball Writers Association who is master of ceremonies.

Another planeload of 70 friends of Boudreau from his home town of Harvey, Ill., will watch the former Cleveland shortstop and player-manager take his place with the baseball greats of the past.

Boudreau, 52, was voted into the Hall by the veteran baseball writers in January with 232 of a possible 300 votes, or more than the required 75 per cent. He played 15 big league seasons with Cleveland and Boston and had a career batting average of .295, leading the American League in 1957 with .327. Boudreau managed Cleveland, Boston, Kansas City and the Chicago Cubs before moving into the radio-television berth in Chicago.

Combs, 70, Haines, 76, and Frick, 75, were selected by the veterans committee in a special election. Combs spent 12 years in the majors with the New York Yankees as leadoff man and center fielder for the great teams from 1924 through 1935 and compiled a .325 average.

Haines, a 24-game winner for St. Louis in 1927, won 210 and lost 158 for the Cardinals. The knuckleball pitcher broke in with Cincinnati in 1918 but had no record and came back with St. Louis to stay from 1920 through 1937.

Frick, former commissioner and president of the National League, moved into the executive branch of the game after a career as a baseball writer. It was his leadership that led to the establishment of the Hall of Fame in Cooperstown in 1939.

Football Negotiations Kept Secret

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Negotiators in the National Football League contract dispute scheduled a joint session today to discuss results of subcommittee "work sessions" held Sunday.

Federal mediator Gilbert J. Seldin said the negotiators broke up into the smaller work sessions Sunday and each group was assigned specific areas of the dispute to discuss.

The negotiations were still shrouded in secrecy as they have been since the talks began last Friday. Seldin refused to say if any progress has been made.

The main issue on the table concerns pensions for the players. The NFL owners have offered $18 million toward pensions over the next four years. The Players Association is demanding $26 million.

The league's 1,300 players were scheduled to report to their training camps Sunday, but no one showed up and most of the camps remained closed.

The NFL contract expired at midnight Saturday.

One of the player representatives, Ken Bowman of the Green Bay Packers, called the present situation a "lockout" by the owners rather than a strike.

The owners refused comment on Bowman's remark.

Seldin called it a "work stoppage."

He said the status of the situation was "a complicated legal issue" that a court would have to rule on before it could be termed either a lockout or a strike.

Seldin noted that the work stoppage has none of the characteristics of a normal labor dispute. Rookie players are working out at some of the camps, the Kansas City Chiefs are still training, a number of the veteran players are carrying out informal training at other locations and there are no picket lines.

The Chiefs are preparing for Friday's annual game against the College All-Stars. Both the owners and the players have approved the club's participation in the game.

If the dispute is not settled, however, the Kansas City team will leave their Liberty, Mo., camp after the All-Star game.

Games End As Friendly Affair

By NOEL HUGHES
EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — The ninth Commonwealth Games lived up to its reputation as a friendly affair, despite reports of black power demonstrations and assassination threats.

As nearly 2,000 athletes packed their bags today and made for their homes in 42 nations, just about everyone here seemed happy.

The legendary Kip Keino, Kenya's Olympic star, won a Commonwealth gold medal for the 1,500 meters event and lived to race another day.

Threats of a bid to kill Keino apparently were from a crank and if he was among the 30,000 fans who crowded into the Meadowbank Sports Stadium on the last day he probably was drowned in a sea of sentimentality as the Scots gave a traditionally warm farewell to their visitors.

The Black power threat turned out to be nothing more than a display of a pair of ladies' panties.

One report, on the last day of the Games, had sinister suggestions of a black power plot, complete with black flag nailed to a staff in the games village.

The "black flag" was a grey, not very clean, blanket, plus the panties. No one could take that very seriously.

The competition was tough, although only three world records fell.

Marilyn Neufville of Jamaica set a new mark for the women's 400 meters with a time of 51 seconds, and 16-year-old Karen Moras of Australia clipped seven seconds off her own world mark in the 800 meters freestyle swimming. Her time was 9:02.45.

Mike Wenden anchored an Australian 800-meter relay squad to a world mark of 7:50.77.

Cruz Ignites 3-Run Rally for Travs

ARLINGTON (AP) — Jose Cruz, who banged out four hits including a double and a triple, ignited a three-run Arkansas rally in the seventh which snapped a six-game Dallas-Fort Worth winning streak 5-3 Sunday night.

With the Travs trailing by a run, Charlie Stewart singled and Cruz tripled to right to tie the score. Vaughn Kovachy relieved to walk three, forcing in the winning run.

Carroll Moulden finished the inning by walking Lucky Thompson, forcing across a fifth run. Arkansas survived a spur rally which left five men stranded in the final two frames.

Dick Semhoff, 3-3, took over for starter Dick Evans in the seventh and was the winner. Wayne Garland, 5-10, the Spur starter, was charged with the loss.

In other Texas League action, El Paso won a doubleheader from Memphis, 8-7 and 6-2 and Amarillo edged San Antonio, 2-1.

Redondo Wins Over May in USLTA Match

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Top-seeded Marita Redondo of National City, Calif., captured the 14 and under division title Saturday in the USLTA National Tennis Championship.

Miss Redondo defeated Kathy May of Beverly Hills, Calif., 6-1, 3-6, 6-2 in the finals.

Top-seeded Lynn Epstein of Miami, Fla., defeated second-seeded Robin Tenny of Los Angeles, 6-0, 6-4 to take the girls' 12 and under title.

Miss Redondo and Gretchen Galt of Studio City, Calif., defeated Miss May and Vicki Jensen of San Diego, 3-6, 9-7, 6-2 in the 14 and under doubles final.

Susan Hagey of LaJolla, Calif., and Susan Wright of Fullerton, Calif., captured the doubles championship in the 12 and under division. They defeated Beth Bondurant of

Collegians' Advantage Is Practice

By JOE MOONSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — The 37th College All-Star football game will find the professionals humping to get ready for combat this year in a reversal of form.

The All-Stars, who have been drilling since July 10 at Northwestern University, will taper off drills this week for Friday night's battle with the Kansas City Chiefs, champions of all professional football.

The Chiefs, who didn't get the go-ahead for their drills until last Friday night, will have had only a minimum of five days to prepare and get in shape for the midsummer gridiron classic.

In past years while the pros were busy building up a winning record of 25-9-2 against the collegians, it was the All-Stars who had to scramble while preparing for the big game.

This year, the Chiefs will be at a conditioning disadvantage although they still go into the

Bettors "Take Bath" in Races

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Favorite bettors took a bath, to use the race track vernacular, in the big horse races last Saturday.

The post time choices in the Brooklyn Handicap, American Derby, Sorority Stakes, Delaware Oaks and Susquehanna Handicap were beaten, resulting in some box car payoffs to lucky long shot punters.

Virginia Cracker returned the biggest mutuel, $153.20, in beating the favored Office Queen by 1 1/2 lengths in the $60,800 Delaware Oaks at Delaware Park.

Helen Jennings paid $37 in the $58,950 Susquehanna Handicap at Liberty Bell Park where the favored Process Shot, top-weighted at 133 pounds, finished 11th in a 13-horse field. Forward Gal $26 won the $105,110 Sorority at Monmouth Park by two lengths over the favored Unity Hall, previously unbeaten.

Pleasure Seeker, fresh from an impressive victory in the $162,000 Hollywood Gold Cup, went off odds-on in the $107,400 Brooklyn Handicap at Aqueduct, but he was beaten by a head by Dewan, the $8.20 second choice.

Corn Off The Cob, the favorite in the $110,300 American Derby at Arlington Park came in last in the field of eight. The Prunier, the $6.20 second choice, scored by three-quarters of a length over Robin's Bug.

TV Commercial, the $6.60 favorite, won the San Diego Handicap at Del Mar, but the choices in the Pelham Handicap at Rockingham, the Graduation Stakes at Detroit, the Brickell Handicap at Tropical Park and the Little Rhody Handicap at Lincoln Downs fell by the wayside.

Foggy Note, $8.40, took the Pelham, Ciney Syd, $15.60, the Brickwell, Be Back, $5.80, the Little Rhody, while the split divisions of the Graduation went to Mr. Gemini, $11.60, and Tribal Lane, $6.80.

Wadkins Will Try for Golf Title

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — If it rains on the National Amateur the Wake Forest golf whiz who now owns the Southern Amateur title may be hard to beat.

The National opens in Portland, Ore., on Sept. 2 and Lanny Wadkins, 22, of Richmond, Va., figures he is ready to try for the big one, wet or dry.

Wadkins won the soggy Southwestern by a whopping eight strokes Saturday. Despite a course made tougher by the daily rains, he was nine under for his 72 holes over the 7,200-yard, par 72 Lakewood Country Club layout.

Tom Kite Jr. of Austin, Tex., finished second with 287 and the national collegiate champion, John Mahaffey of Kerrville, Tex., who edged Wadkins by one stroke for the college title, was a distant third at 290.

Tyng Mahaffey for third was Eddie Pearce of Temple, Texas, who shot a final round 75.

Scarsdale, N.Y. and Patricia Shoolman of Fairport, N.Y., 6-4, 6-6.

came as a championship unit which defeated Minnesota 23-7 in last season's Super Bowl game.

The Chiefs were unable to open their camp until last Saturday because of the contract squabble between owners and players in the National Football League.

Although the confrontation is far from settled, the NFL Players' Association gave its consent for the Chiefs to play in the All-Star game.

The All-Stars have lost their last six games against the professional champions including last year's near miss in a 3-24 defeat at the hands of Joe Namath and the New York Jets.

Their last victory was in 1963, a 20-17 upset of the Green Bay Packers. They also dented Detroit 35-9 in 1958 and both triumphs came under the guidance of head coach Otto Graham who again is at the All-Star helm.

Graham is pleased with his 1970 All-Stars and their work in camp and said "We've worked in camp on the assumption the game would be played. We'll be ready."

Although Graham will not have Terry Bradshaw of Louisiana Tech at his disposal at the vital quarterback position, he still has a couple of highly capable passers in Dennis Shaw of San Diego State and Mike Phipps of Purdue. Bradshaw was an early casualty in the All-Star camp.

The Chiefs will have to work fast in order to get ready and Coach Hank Stram lost no time in getting workouts started Saturday in the Kansas City camp at William Jewell College in Liberty, Mo.

The Chiefs, however, work on a year-round fitness program and figure to be 90 percent near their goal. It's that last 10 percent they must put together this week.

St. Louis Pro Captures 7th PBA Crown

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Nelson Burton Jr., the slender St. Louis pro, captured his seventh Professional Bowlers Association crown Sunday night as he won the $30,000 Fort Worth Open Bowling Tournament by 141 pins—average 219 for the 40-game route.

The only four-time winner this year, Burton rolled games of 225, 195, 258, 177, 215, 220, and 195 Sunday night to withstand a late charge by 1968 bowler of the year Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill.

The handsome Burton won 12 of 16 match games Sunday—receiving 50 bonus pins for each win—to finish the tourney with a 9,394 total and take the $3,000 first prize.

Stefanich needed a 27-pin victory over Burton in the final game, but a pair of splits kept him from his 12th PBA title and he settled for second and $1,600 with his 9,253 total.

Rosewall Beats Richey at Tennis

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ken Rosewall said he never lost his confidence, even when he was trailing Cliff Richey Sunday in the finals of the Western Tennis Championships.

"I'd been playing the game the right way," he said. "I just missed a few shots and he was making a few. I felt a few good shots and I'd be right back in there."

Rosewall did make a few good shots, for he rallied from a 5-2 deficit in the third set and beat Richey, 7-9, 9-7, 8-6, for the men's singles title.

Richey, San Angelo, Texas, defending Western men's champ, said a break that went Rosewall's way turned the match around.

"I've got him 5-2 and 30 all in the third set and he hits a line," Richey said. "A quarter of an inch further back and it would have been a point for me. That's how close the match was."

Rosewall, Australia, won $5,000 for his victory, while Richey picked up $2,500. Their match lasted three hours and 10 minutes.

In women's play, Rosemary Casals, San Francisco, Calif., beat Nancy Richey, San Angelo, Texas, 6-3, 6-5, for the women's title. Miss Casals used strong overhead smashes and backhands to keep her opponent off balance.

In the other title decided Sunday, Rumanians Ion Tiriac and the Nastase defeated South Africans Frew McMillan and Bob Hewitt, 6-3, 6-3, for the men's doubles crown.

13-Year-Old Makes Hole in One Here

John D. Gillespie, Jr., of Rochester, N.Y., made a hole in one at the Hope Country Club Saturday, July 25. He accomplished this feat by using a No. 5 wood on the 165-yard No. seven hole.

He was playing in a foursome with his father, Bobby Whitmarsh, Hope High School principal, and Judge John L. Wilson. In addition to the playing companions, Jamie Russell witnessed the shot.

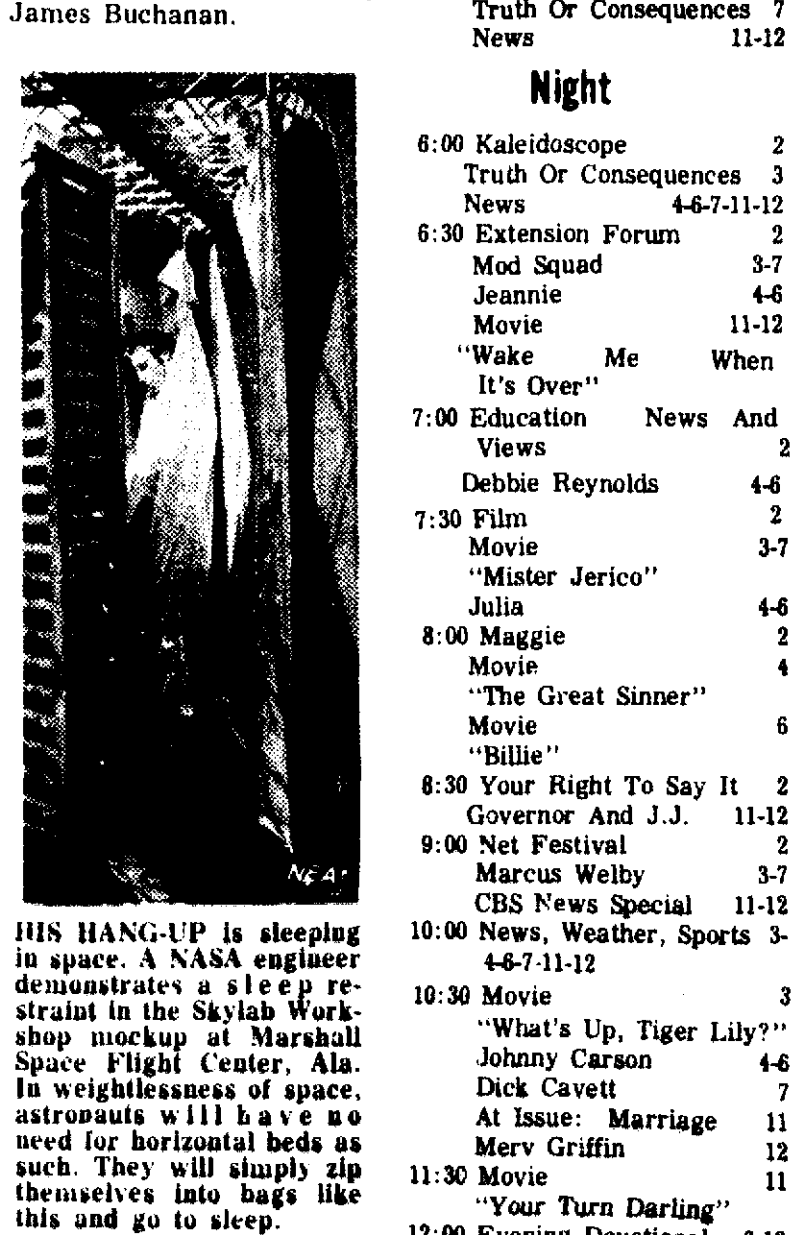

At age 13, Gillespie is one of the youngest players to ever make a hole in one on the Hope course. He is the nephew of Judge and Mrs. John L. Wilson.

He is the second member of his family to join the select hole-in-one club. His mother made one in 1968 playing on the Oak Hill Course in Rochester.

Trapper Would Keep Frozen, Lonely Life

By EDDIE ADAMS
LAKE MINCHUMINA, Alaska (AP) — After the Indians, they were the first of the first—the trappers.

The wilderness was their home, its game their quarry. For a dwindling few it still is. Hjalmar "Slim" Carlson is 85 now. And still trapping. He is a portrait almost frozen in time ... dog team and sled ... a one-room log cabin with a bed, battered sofa, a tree trunk for a chair and a crude wooden table ... above his homestead, the towering mass of Mt. McKinley.

"An awful lot of people on the outside no doubt would think I'm a lonely man. You can tell them I wouldn't trade my life with any of them. How can I get lonely with so much to do? And I have my dogs."

"Television? You can have it. I wouldn't accept one as a gift. I prefer reading. Anyway, I don't have electricity."

His one contact with the outside is a battery-powered short-wave radio on a shelf near his bed.

"The whole world has gone crazy," says Carlson. "We don't have riots out here. Just mosquitoes." His nearest neighbor is 15 miles away. But distance is nothing in the wilderness. Carlson's trappings are 50 miles from his cabin.

He generally walks it now-days. At his age, his dogs sometimes are a little hard to handle. But he remains hardy on a diet of caribou, vegetables from his garden and fish from his lake.

Besides his radio, Carlson keeps contact with the world by subscribing to a book club and a variety of magazines—including Field and Stream. But he knows

THE WELL CHILD

Measles Immunization Is Recommended Step

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Measles is a killer. Now that it is preventable, it is more nearly correct to say that measles, plus apathy, is a killer. Four years ago, thanks to the widespread use of the new measles vaccine, eradication of the disease seemed possible. But in the early weeks of 1970 a sharp increase in reported cases was observed.

Too many people have forgotten how serious measles can be with its crippling complications, such as pneumonia, corneal ulcers, middle-ear infections and, most damaging of all, encephalitis or brain fever. It is estimated that eight million children now approaching school age are susceptible to measles because they have not been immunized.

The best time to have your child vaccinated against measles is on his first birthday. But no child should be allowed to start his school life without this protection, because contact with a large number of other children is the surest way to get the disease.

Q—Is it true that cats carry disease? Which would be better for a child—a cat or a dog?

A—All pets are potential carriers of disease. The best pet for a child is one that appeals to him and that he can be taught to take care of. If you are worried about it being a source of disease, have a veterinarian examine the pet and give it appropriate inoculations.

Q—My son had convulsions for three days after he was born. The doctor said they were caused by a calcium deficiency and gave him calcium in his veins, which cured him. What is the name of this disease? Is it likely that my next baby will have it?

A—This sounds like tetany (not tetanus), but it is unusual for it to be present at birth. It is not likely to occur in any of your future babies.

Q—A girl, 7, in our family has leukemia. Is there any cure for it?

A—Although there is no known cure, several new drugs have extended the lives of children with this disease—vincristine, methotrexate, L-as

Bad Weather Driving

One of the bitter ironies of the tragic traffic carnage registered each year on our highways is that Americans can and will drive safely when they think they should.

Travelers Insurance notes in its annual traffic safety study that, of the nation's 56,500 traffic deaths in 1969, only 1.8 per cent occurred in fog and only 2.1 per cent in snow, two of the most dangerous weather conditions in which to operate an automobile.

Bad weather may not be pleasant, but it appears to be a real life saver to many motorists. — Dallas (Tex.) Morning News

Wants Higher Wages to End Strike

By DONALD M. MCNICOLL

LONDON (AP) — A court of inquiry recommended today higher guaranteed weekly wages and more pay for overtime, holidays and the operation of "modernization" to settle a strike by 47,000 British longshoremen.

It was less than the strikers had demanded, but it opened possibilities for an end to the 13-day dock strike.

The dock employers promptly pledged to accept the recommendations in full. The strike leaders called a national conference for Wednesday to decide whether to accept. A union official called the recommendations "a significant advance."

The strike was called in support of the men's demand for raises that would almost double their basic wage.

The court of inquiry, under Lord Pearson, rejected this demand, but recommended instead that the longshoremen accept the employers' offer of an increase in the guaranteed weekly wage. The men already had rejected the employers' guaranteed weekly wage offer, but the new recommendations could change the picture.

The inquiry board left open the possibility of improving the basic wage. Although it rejected the dockers' specific claim for a $21.60 increase in basic pay, the inquiry said the basic pay was outdated and inadequate. It said "some remedial action" was called for, without giving specifics.

Fair and Warm, Is Forecast

Fair skies and warm temperatures are expected for most parts of Arkansas Tuesday. There also will be a chance of scattered thundershowers.

The high pressure area centered along the east coast has moved little during the last 24-48 hours and, as a result, little change was forecast for Arkansas.

Thurmond Relents on Nixon Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Strom Thurmond appears headed for a reconciliation with President Nixon following a feud over proposed administration desegregation programs for the South.

The South Carolina Republican said Sunday the President appears to have "repudiated the bad advice given to him by some aides and executive officers."

"Apparently, the President's good will and common sense won out," Thurmond said in a report to his constituents. But he said he would continue watching the White House to see if administration attitudes really have changed.

Thurmond recently accused Nixon of breaking faith with the South because of an Internal Revenue Service ruling denying tax exempt status to private schools and a Justice Department decision to send lawyers into the region to oversee school desegregation.

The senator warned Nixon in a July 16 Senate speech the administration's desegregation policies could cost the President the White House in the 1972 election.

He attributed the desegregation plans to liberal White House advisers.

The IRS, Thurmond said, has since granted tax exemptions to six Southern private schools, and sent letters declaring an open admissions policy would be sufficient to secure tax exemption in the future.

Nixon overruled the Justice Department, he added, and re-emphasized his support for textile import quota legislation.

In an earlier interview with The Associated Press, Thurmond cited Robert H. Finch, former secretary of health, education and welfare, and Jerris K. Leonard, assistant attorney general for civil rights, as two men the administration could do without.

The senator, who was instrumental in helping Nixon win the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, declined to say whether he would support Nixon again in 1972.

But he said the administration's desegregation policies could jeopardize election chances of GOP candidates in the South this November.

He said it's "altogether possible" that Southern Republicans will conduct their fall campaigns without seeking the administration's endorsement and public backing.

Thurmond maintains there is more racial segregation in many Northern cities than there is in the entire state of South Carolina and says the South is treated unfairly in such matters.

Castro Alarmed as Trade Balance With Russia Grows Worse

MIAMI (AP) — Fidel Castro says Cuba is beset by economic trouble and needs better leadership from its Communist party.

Addressing his island country Sunday night on the 17th anniversary of his revolution, Castro called its problems "the responsibility of all of us, and mine in particular."

He said Cuba could change its leadership if it wanted to — "right now, at the moment it wishes" — but apparently saw no likelihood that this would come to pass.

"We have no fear in admitting our responsibility and stating our problems before the people in view of the confidence that we have," the prime minister declared.

Castro spoke at the end of a 12-month sugar harvest which yielded 8½ million tons — a record, but still far short of the goal of 10 million tons.

"Equal rights for women—we ask for no more; we will settle for no less," said prize-winning author and former White House staff member Liz Carpenter in a major address last Thursday, July 23, at the concluding session of the 1970 Convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., which was held in Honolulu, Hawaii, July 19-23.

Over 3,000 women attended the convention that climaxed the Golden Anniversary of the 180,000-member organization. Miss Fannie Hardy of Little Rock, a former National B & P.W. President, was the installing officer at an impressive installation ceremony which preceded Mrs. Carpenter's address.

W.Germany, Soviet Near Agreement

By JOHN BAUSMAN

Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW (AP) — The West German and Soviet foreign ministers began talks in Moscow today to complete a nonaggression pact the Bonn government hopes will open the way to better relations with Eastern Europe.

West German Foreign Minister Walter Scheel and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko are trying to conclude an agreement in which West Germany and the Soviet Union renounce the use of force against each other and West Germany accepts the postwar loss of German territory to Poland and the Soviet Union. But in an attempt to appease the political opposition at home, Scheel brought along amendments he wants to attach to the treaty emphasizing Bonn's aims of German reunification and improved access to West Berlin.

Scheel arrived Sunday from Bonn and called on Gromyko at his office this morning. A West German source said Scheel planned to present his amendments at this first meeting but that Gromyko was not expected to respond until a later session.

The meeting lasted just over an hour. Scheel told newsmen the meeting had been "good" and its atmosphere "cooperative, very cooperative."

He and Gromyko scheduled another meeting in the afternoon.

Socialist Chancellor Willy Brandt's conservative opposition, the Christian Democrats, have been charging that the proposed treaty's recognition of Germany's postwar eastern borders gives away the government's chief bargaining point without getting enough in return. But an article Sunday in Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, indicated a chilly reception for the amendments. Scheel worked up to counter the Christian Democratic argument.

Salazar's technique was paternal, sometimes even benevolent. But he controlled police and press and permitted token opposition for only 40 days before elections every four years.

With a reputation for financial wizardry, Salazar kept Portugal's budget balanced when other European nations were deep in debt. But he did so at the expense of the workers, who are among the lowest paid, worst fed and most illiterate in Europe.

Yet Portugal's voters showed political unconcern and made no serious move to replace him. In 1966 Salazar declared the public revenue had increased 12-fold to $600 million, illiteracy in the school population had dropped to almost zero from 70 per cent and that production was up.

"The enemy says we have problems," Castro declared. "In reality, they are right. That there is discontent. And they are right. That there are irritations. And our enemies are right."

Castro also said changes must be made in the structure of Cuba's Communist party.

Castro's broadcast speech commemorated his July 26, 1953, assault on an army barracks of then dictator Fulgencio Batista.

The attack failed, but Castro continued his campaign until he toppled Batista in 1959.

Education Bill Key to Capitol Fight

By WALTER R. MEARS

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — An election-year spending controversy between the White House and Congress is likely to flare again today as the Senate considers a $4.4 billion education appropriation bill.

A final Senate vote is expected to send the money bill to President Nixon—who has termed it an example of excessive spending on Capitol Hill.

The administration has described as innocuous a set of once-controversial civil rights restrictions tacked onto the school aid measure, but Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said those terms are likely to stir debate anyhow.

Salazar, Portugal's Old Man, Dies

LISBON (AP) — Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, premier and dictator of Portugal for 36 years, died at his home in Lisbon today after a long illness. He was 81 and Europe's longest surviving government chief in modern times.

The government secretary of information said Salazar died at 9:45 a.m.

President Americo Thomaz, the admiral Salazar elevated in 1958, was touring Portuguese provinces in Africa and was immediately notified of the death. He was expected to return to Lisbon immediately.

The 64-year-old premier suffered a stroke in September 1968 which left him partially paralyzed and forced his retirement. He developed a kidney infection 12 days ago, and since then his condition had steadily worsened.

A bashful dictator, Salazar loved power but shunned its trappings. Ruler of the world's last great Victorian-style overseas empire, he lived like an obscure clerk. Simplicity, frugality and austerity marked his personal life.

A shy, scholarly economist, he was rarely seen by his own people. In a nation of poverty, he paid himself $130 a week and spent his vacations in a one-story cottage in the village where he was born.

But from the day he took over as premier in 1932, he held Portugal and its African fiefs in an iron grip. Rebellions developed but did not prevail during his lifetime in the African territories of Angola, Mozambique and Guinea.

Efforts to stir his people to uprising came to naught.

Salazar's technique was paternal, sometimes even benevolent. But he controlled police and press and permitted token opposition for only 40 days before elections every four years.

One Killed in Houston Riot Fight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Two police officers, perched atop St. John's Baptist church, returned fire from black militants Sunday night, they said, killing one Negro and wounding three Negroes and a white man.

Police said that in all about 100 shots were fired and that the exchange of gunfire ended quickly. They said that after the shooting about 30 armed blacks stalked the streets brandishing shotguns and rifles and warning police to stay away.

Before order was finally restored, police said a battery of helmeted officers charged a concentration of 150 to 200 blacks, striking them with rifle butts and making about 75 arrests.

No policemen were reported injured.

The intelligence officers had been posted on the churchtop in a predominantly Negro neighborhood to observe a rally staged nearby by People's Party II, a black group. Killed in the gunfire was Carl Hampton, 21, the party chairman.

The rally was an impromptu affair hastily assembled to protest the arrest of two Negro youths earlier in the day.

After the trouble was put down police raided the three-story brick building housing headquarters of People's Party II and confiscated what they called a large quantity of rifles, shotguns, pistols and ammunition. Officers did not immediately issue a count of the weapons.

An official police statement said two officers encountered Herbert Joseph Gerac, 19, armed with a pistol, and a 15-year-old carrying a shotgun in the middle of the street in front of People's Party II headquarters about 6 p.m.

Police said the youths pointed their weapons at the officers. They said Gerac broke and ran into the rear door of St. John's and pointed his pistol again.

Police said they could not shoot for fear of hitting two women. Three men church members wrestled the pistol from Gerac, charged later with carrying a pistol and assault. The younger one was turned over the juvenile authorities.

The rally of about 150 persons followed the incident by several hours. O.J. Norris, chief of police intelligence, said the rally had broke up when someone in the street saw the officers and ran into People's Party II headquarters.

Norris said a group of armed men then moved back onto the street.

"One shot at us," said Norris. "We didn't return the fire then. Two Negro males ran across the street and began shooting at us again. We shot them. Four more armed men came down the street shooting at the church roof. We hit one and the rest ran back into the headquarters building. Then we were being sniped at from all around and we returned the fire."

Authorities sent 125 to 150 men into the area in what Police Chief H.B. Short said was a preplanned response to possible mass disturbances.

Abolition of Secret Vote May Face Test in the House Today

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House may decide today whether to junk its ancient rule permitting members to vote secretly on many major issues.

The test will come on an amendment to abolish the teller vote, the practice of counting members walking between two colleagues. No names are recorded.

A formidable coalition of Republicans and Democrats support the amendment to a 140-page congressional reorganization bill which the House has been considering off and on for two weeks.

The Teller vote is used during consideration of amendments when the House sits as a committee.

Red Officer's Boast Aids U.S. Navy

By LAWRENCE L. KNUXTON

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's bid to halt the arms race and a U.S. admiral's warning of growing Soviet naval power have refueled the heated Senate debate over the nation's defense budget.

The issue currently stems from the $19.2 billion military hardware bill that critics claim could be cut $5 billion without damaging national security.

Senate forces defending the $19.2 billion procurement bill for new ships, planes, tanks, missiles and the controversial Safeguard anti-ballistic missile system also may have been handed a telling argument by the commander in chief of the Soviet navy.

Debate resumed today in the Senate, only a few hours after it was disclosed the United States had asked the Soviet Union to join in a mutual limit on land and sea-based strategic nuclear missiles. The proposal would limit ABMs to approximately the same number now deployed around Moscow by the Soviet Union.

The Soviets have not replied to the American approach. Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said Sunday that any attempt to limit the $1.3 billion asked by the Pentagon for the Safeguard ABM system could "pull the rug" from under the U.S. bargaining team at the Vienna arms limitation talks.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he believes it no coincidence that the new U.S. approach at Vienna was revealed at the time the Senate debate on the ABM and other weapons systems was opening.

Last year, the decision to start ABM deployment was approved by only one vote. The issue before the Senate now is whether the Safeguard system, intended to protect the nation's offensive missiles, should be expanded to four sites.

In a related action, Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover said if the Soviet Union has not already surpassed the United States in total numbers of operational nuclear submarines, it can be expected to do so by the end of the year.

Rickover, in testimony given last March and released Sunday by the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, said Soviet missile-firing submarines are now stationed off the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

He added the Soviet drive to forge a first rate naval force apparently is succeeding and that the American defense posture is deteriorating to the point where he has no confidence the United States would be victorious in an all-out war with the Soviet Union.

at such times unless an amendment is approved. An amendment defeated normally cannot be voted on by later roll-call.

The proposed change would require members to be recorded by name on future teller votes if at least 20 of those present demand it. No longer would a member be able to vote against major amendments and keep his action from the official record.

Another pending amendment backed by a smaller coalition would permit recording of votes and attendance during House sessions by electronic or electrical equipment.

House leaders hope to finally dispose of the reorganization bill Tuesday. It still must clear the Senate before becoming effective, since some of the proposed changes would affect that chamber as well as the House.

Jordan Joins Egypt in O.K. of U.S. Plan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Jordanian cabinet agreed Sunday night to accept the U.S. cease-fire proposal to get Middle East peace negotiations moving again but with the reservation that it cannot stop the Palestinian guerrillas.

The Israeli cabinet postponed a decision on Washington's proposal after a six-hour meeting Sunday. The Jerusalem Post, which usually reflects the Israeli government's thinking, said the cabinet probably will give a "qualified affirmative reply" but will request "firm guarantees that the cease-fire will not be exploited."

The newspaper said Israel would insist on an indefinite cease-fire rather than the 90-day truce period U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers proposed for Egypt, Jordan and Israel. Members of the Israeli government contend that the Egyptians would use a limited cease-fire period to fortify missile sites and other military positions along the Suez Canal.

Sources in Jerusalem said President Nixon had assured Premier Golda Meir after Egypt accepted the plan that the United States would maintain a balance of power in the region.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser approved the proposal last week after the Soviet Union endorsed it. Syria rejected it Sunday as expected, and so did Iraq, which has troops stationed in Jordan.

Jordan's conditional acceptance followed a day-long meeting Sunday of Prime Minister Abdel Moneim Rifai's cabinet and an announcement by the guerrillas Saturday night that they will fight on for "complete liberation of Palestine."

Rifai announced the decision was "unanimous, positive and consistent with the reply of the United Arab Republic (Egypt)."

Informed sources said the reply to Washington would contain some reservations, the chief of which would say the Amman government could not be responsible for actions by the Palestinian commandos. Since they are responsible for most of the attacks from Jordan on Israel, this promised no appreciable reduction in the level of fighting along the Israeli-Jordanian frontier.

Syria's rejection of the American peace initiative came as no surprise, because Syria never has accepted the 1967 United Nations Security Council resolution on the Middle East. Damascus radio said Sunday this refusal remains "absolute," precluding acceptance of any political solution based on it.

Iraq called on all members of the Arab League to join in rejection of the U.S. plan.

On the battle fronts, the Israeli military command reported the first incidents along the Golan Heights frontier with Syria in a month but said there were no casualties. The Israelis said a civilian car was hit by a bazooka rocket, there was intermittent mortar fire all night at the northern end of the heights, and an Israeli patrol repelled a squad of Arab infiltrators who left behind six bazooka rockets.

The Israelis also reported an exchange of fire across the northern Jordanian frontier and another across the southern frontier 29 miles north of Eilat.

Protect 'Phone Line When Digging

A person's life or property may depend on whether farmers and construction workers make one important 'phone call before starting excavation projects.

That call is to "Enterprise 9800" to check on buried telephone cable, Wire Chief W. B. O'Neal of Southwestern Bell said.

"If a worker accidentally digs up a telephone cable, he can interrupt thousands of calls," O'Neal added. "This could be tragic, because it might mean life-saving calls to doctors, police or the fire department are blocked by a broken phone cable."

The wire chief urged all people planning excavation work to dial "9" and ask the operator for "Enterprise 9800."

"Enterprise 9800" is a universal number that alerts the operator to direct the call to the nearest Bell office. Telephone company representatives will then go to the site to locate the cable so it won't be damaged by digging equipment.

"There is no charge for calls to Enterprise 9800," O'Neal pointed out.

Buried telephone cable routes are clearly marked with warning signs that give the number to call, he added.

"But it's a good idea to check with us any time you are digging, whether you see the buried cable sign or not," O'Neal said.

He urged that persons planning to dig call "Enterprise 9800" a couple of days in advance to help prevent delays and to insure cable routes can be properly identified for the excavation workers beforehand.

O'Neal stressed the importance of also checking in residential areas for buried phone cable before digging.

"We know that no one wants to dig up a cable," he said. "The prevention of service interruption is just a matter of cooperation between those planning to dig and the phone company."

Telephone cables generally are buried at depths of between two and five feet, depending on the type cable and the terrain.

Southwestern Bell now buries a vast majority of all cable, the wire chief said, because buried cable has less chance of being damaged by severe weather and putting it underground also enhances the appearance of the area.

President Sees Ball Game

The President scheduled another session an hour later to confer with top domestic policy advisers on an "overview of the economy."

Four Die on Arkansas Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The State Police said four persons lost their lives on Arkansas' highways this past weekend. Two of the victims were killed in separate accidents and one of the accidents was a double fatality.

The weekend traffic death count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday. State Police said Mrs. Patricia Ann Webb, 37, of Morrilton was killed in a head-on collision of two cars on Arkansas 9, 26 miles north of Morrilton Sunday.

Officials said the accident occurred when a car driven by W. M. Mahan, 74, of near Bee Branch (van Buren) turned into the path of a car driven by Mrs. Webb's husband, James C. Webb, 43.

Six persons in the two cars, including Webb and Mahan were injured in an accident.

William T. Parish, 30, of Harrisburg was killed Saturday on U.S. 63 near the Crittenden-Mississippi county line. Police said Parish's car was traveling in a southbound exit ramp when it collided with a southbound tractor trailer.

Two persons were killed early Saturday in a two-car crash on Arkansas 22, near Charleston.

Police identified the victims as Bill Tolbert, 41, of Ozark and Douglas W. Roberts, 44, of Lavaca.

Wants Better Military Examinations

By BROOKS JACKSON, Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard S. Schweiker today called for improved military physical examinations after a government report disclosed the armed services continue to accept men who are physically unfit to serve.

Some men recently inducted were found to have only one kidney, deformed by polio or missing part of a thumb, the Pennsylvania Republican said in releasing a report by the General Accounting Office.

He called on the Pentagon to improve its screening procedures to weed out men physically unfit to serve before induction.

Nearly 40,000 servicemen who were discharged in fiscal 1968 and 1969 within a year of their enlistments were released because of prior physical defects, Schweiker said.

Among the cases, the report said, were those of an Air Force man with a large scar from a kidney removal operation, a Marine released when it was found he had only part of his left thumb, an Air Force man discharged for an absence of muscles on the left side of his trunk, and a man whose childhood bout with polio had left him with his left leg more than one inch shorter than his right.

The Pentagon spent $17.9 million for pay, travel, allowances and uniforms in fiscal 1969 alone for men discharged for such prior defects, the report said.

Schweiker asked the General Accounting Office—the congressional investigative agency, to update a similar report two years ago. The GAO earlier found 40,200 discharges for prior defects during a similar two-year period.

The latest report said the number of such discharges held steady during both periods at 2.3 per cent of all those inducted.

The GAO recommended improvements including efforts to even the flow of inductees through examining stations. Schweiker said Pittsburgh station had a capacity of 200 men a day, but the actual workload varied last April from 65 to 350 men daily.

Harris Rules Confinement Unusual, Cruel

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Correction Commissioner C. Robert Sarver says James E. Jackson, a Cummins Prison Farm inmate, has an inalienable right to sleep "where the stars at night are big and bright ..."

Sarver said Jackson, 26, will be given the opportunity each evening to choose whether he sleeps in the prison isolation unit or on the ball diamond.

Except for rainy periods, Jackson had been confined to the diamond 24 hours-a-day since May 14. However, U.S. District Judge Oren Harris ruled Thursday that the confinement constituted cruel and unusual punishment. Harris said Jackson could be kept on the ball diamond while other inmates were working in the fields.

Sarver said Jackson told Asst. Supt. Cecil Boren Friday that prison officials would have to carry him wherever they wanted him to go.

Sarver said Saturday that

Jackson would not be carried anywhere unless he refused to leave the isolation unit and go to the ball diamond.

Sarver said he had prepared a "warning" that would be read to Jackson any evening he refused to leave the ball diamond.

The warning says: "Before we ask you to leave this place and proceed to another place under your own power; that is by placing one foot before the other a sufficient number of times to result in the movement of the body from this place to the other, you must understand your rights."

"You are being asked to move for the purpose of sleeping on a mattress, indoors, out of the elements, now that your work day is complete. It is believed by the officials of this institution and the federal courts that this is highly beneficial and important to your continued physical well being."

"However, you have an inalienable right to sleep where the stars at night are big and bright and to enjoy the pleasures and benefits of the fresh air 24 hours a day if that is your desire. If this is your choice you will not be forced to proceed from this place to the other place."
